"Let's Make a Deal" host Wayne Brady has listed his home in the Sherman Oaks at $2.2 million.

The Mediterranean-style house has floor-to-ceiling living room windows, a home theater and a master suite with a built-in media center and a sitting area. The 5,468-square-home has five bedrooms and five bathrooms.

The actor, singer and comedian, who started hosting the revival of "Let's Make a Deal" in 2009, is also known for his role on the comedy improv show "Whose Line Is It Anyway?" (1998-2006). He hosted and produced "The Wayne Brady Show" in the early 2000s.

Brady, 39, bought the house in 2005 for $2.55 million, according to public records.

Laura Piller and the Cohan Team of Rodeo Realty, Calabasas, are listing the property.
